The Editor Pauses to Say . . . . .

Dear Students:

Do you remember preparing for the Prom or perhaps the Class Play? It was such great fun, wasn't it?

There are so many happy and exciting events that take place during your high school course that you never want to forget them. The parties, dances, assemblies, and plays have helped to make your school life happier, and the friendships begun in school are valued above all.

Realizing that a yearbook cannot be a success unless it satisfies those for whom it is published, the Bethescope, in its recording of these happy events and friendships, has attempted to fulfill the desires of two groups, the student body of today and the alumni of tomorrow. The events recorded herein are now vibrant and vital, but it is the sincere wish of the Staff that this, the Bethescope of 1941, will not prove monotonous to you as years lend sobriety to your ideas and judgments.

Cordially yours,
The Editor.

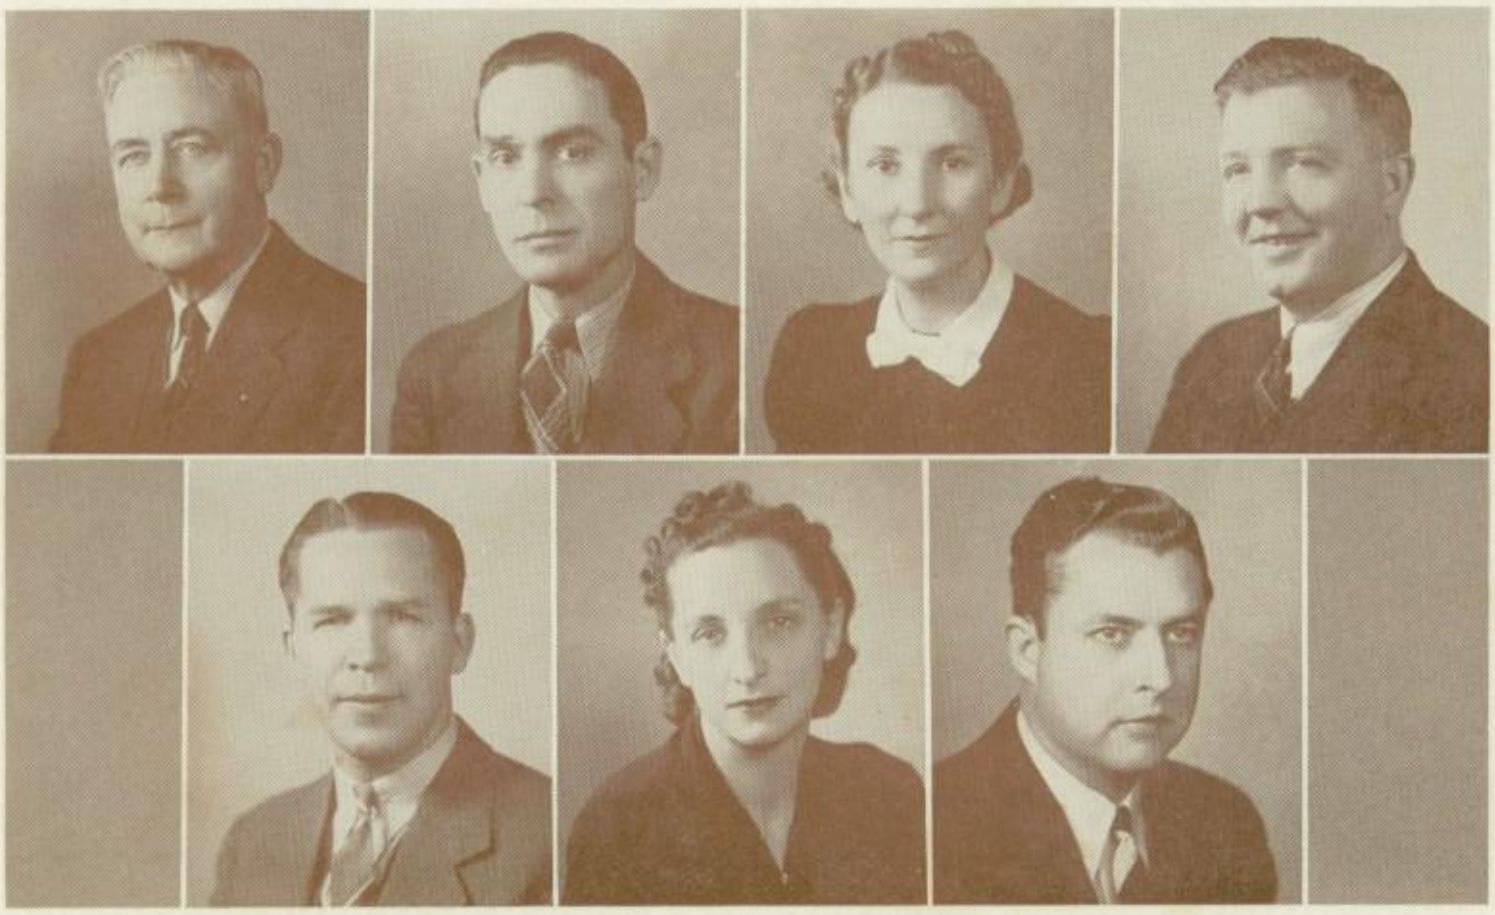
An Expression of Our Appreciation

★ ★ ★

This humble expression of our appreciation can never compensate for all of the aid and advice given us by our two principals, Mr. Winton and Mr. Davies. If ever any student were troubled with an unsolved problem, his path unknowingly led to one or the other, where the problem was destined to be solved. Many a student has found unawakened possibilities within himself through the encouragement and example of these two inspirational men. They have truly been guiding lights in our path of learning.

Teachers of Youth, But



Mr. Winton Mr. Davies Miss Haver Mr. Edwards
Mr. Harshman Miss Zwick Mr. Bower

Words We'll Remember:

Mr. Winton—"I'll see about that at once."

Mr. Davies—"Remember — booing is a sound that comes only from a hollow object."

Miss Haver—"Sit in the middle of your seat and keep your eyes on your own paper."

Mr. Edwards—"Of course, that's my own opinion. Everyone has a right to his own opinion."

Mr. Harshman—"We're here to work! No sleeping in this class!"

Miss Zwick—"Have you no respect for your elders? When you've finished talking, I'll continue."

Mr. Bower — "That'll be enough of the Beechnut Quartet."

Counselors and Friends, As Well

Mrs. Smith Mr. Greskovich Mr. Marconi Miss Morgan
Miss Adams Miss Perrone Miss Sokol

Words We'll Remember:

Mrs. Smith—"All right, girls, stop your giggling and sing."

Mr. Greskovich—"Usher yourself up to this corner seat."

Mr. Marconi—"Write out the whole book for tomorrow! . . . I'll take that back, but the next time . . . .!"

Miss Morgan—"When two students make the same grade, it may be a coincidence, but when two students make the same mistakes, it's not a coincidence."

Miss Adams—"Good acting requires that you drop your own character and be someone else."

Miss Perrone — "Don't forget—mark in the accents, acute and grave."

Miss Sokol—"We have only one rule in this class: Come prepared to work. I reserve the right to ask you to leave if you come without pencil or paper."

A Memo . . . .

Mr. Winton—As students you very seldom come in direct contact with him, but he is the man that makes things tick in our school.

Mr. Davies—You've met him in Physics or Chemistry class, or perhaps it was in the office when you were a few minutes late.

Miss Morgan—If you leave her class without having every date down pat (and I do mean Historical dates) it's not her fault.

Miss Haver—It's her ambition to curb all the slang you hear about the school. She's also the guiding light of the Beta Tri-Hi-Y girls.

Mr. Harshman—All that he's interested in is that you know how to form equations.

Mr. Greskovich—If there is any detail you wish to know concerning Biology, the man to see is the lord and master of Room B.

Miss Sokol—She is the teacher that has her hands full. If she's not trying her best to get her not-overly-ambitious yearbook staff to meet a publication deadline, she's giving her first team debaters last minute instructions in preparation for a debate.

Miss Adams—She gives you the primary essentials of becoming a great Latin orator, and is also identified with the Drama Club.

Miss Perrone—You've just got to get the right accent on your French vocabulary if you want to please her.

Miss Zwick—She may make you a great basketball star, or volleyball if that's your preference. Also dispenses aspirins as a sideline.

Mr. Edwards—Oh yes, he's the little man that has everyone writing 1500-word essays on "The World Situation Today." It's still to be decided whether he is harder on the Freshies or the dignified Seniors.

Mr. Marconi—"Haven't you blocked that column yet?"—a familiar question heard in the vicinity of the typing room about two days before the Hi-Spots is due to come out.

Mr. Bower—You don't leave his class without knowing every detail in the life of Edgar Allan Poe.

Mrs. Smith—E. B.'s music instructress. She trained our boys' and girls' choruses.

Class of 1941

The Class of '41 made its entree into this institution of higher education in 1937. A reception committee composed of a little over 200 upperclassmen, armed with an abundant supply of shellac, shoe polish, castor oil, et cetera, greeted us. After they finished with us we looked like a surrealist's dream of the missing-link and we felt as bad as we looked. But we enjoyed making new acquaintances and learning the ways of the school.

We soon settled down to the routine of classes however, and to make us feel at home the Sophomores gave us a party in our honor. This was about the only social hi-lite of our Freshman year. Not being an organized body, we were unable to sponsor any events of our own.

Our Sophomore year brought with it sweet revenge. "What happened to those dumb Freshies, shouldn't happen to a dog."

This year we elected officers of our class. Kenneth Snyder was elected President; Vera Kapcar, Vice President; and Nellie Podzerviensky, Secretary-Treasurer. These officers were in charge of the Freshman-Sophomore party and under their direction it was a huge success.

Hi-Lites of Our History

After the first year in high school, the following years seem to pass more quickly—they did to us anyway.

With our Junior year came newer and greater responsibilities—both in our studies and social affairs. And to lead us through these responsibilities we elected Allan Parrish, President; Kenneth Snyder, Vice President; and Vera Kapcar, Secretary-Treasurer.

Raising funds for the Junior-Senior Prom was our object, and by splendid co-operation within the class we achieved our goal.

We sponsored a class play entitled, "Spring Fever," under the able direction of Miss Adams, who sponsors the Drama Club. The cast put on a fine performance and the play went over in a big way.

On May 10, 1939, members of the Junior and Senior classes, bedecked in their finest raiment, tripped the light fantastic at the annual Junior-Senior Prom. — We have reason to be proud of this hi-lite.

During the year we sponsored many social Hi-Lites and the class was well represented in the various organizations and sports of the school.

When we returned to school as Seniors, following summer vacation, we found that the membership of our class had dwindled from 112 upon enrollment as freshmen to 69 Seniors. — What happened to those other 43?

To lead us down the home stretch we elected Kenneth Snyder as President, Allan Parrish as Vice President, Sundae Cerqua as Secretary, and Harris Dolcini as Treasurer, which proves that this is a man's world after all.

Vera Kapcar became Editor-in-Chief of the Bethescope and Kenneth Bachman editor of the Hi-Spots.

Paul Cupp, Joseph Miller, Kenneth Bachman, Walter Doman, Charles Murray, and Harris Dolcini did right by our Football Squad and Murray, Snyder, Cupp, Dolcini, and Wayne Nyswaner held down berths on the Basketball Squad.

Early in the year we sponsored the Senior Class Play, "Foot-Loose," with Miss Adams once more directing. Again the crown of success was bestowed upon us.

Our play was followed by a series of dances and parties, climaxed by the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

We bring to a close the "Hi-Lites of Our History" with "Today we follow, tomorrow we lead" as our motto; navy blue and white as our class colors; and the yellow tea rose as our class flower. We are bound to succeed — successfully.

" . . . Time Will Tell . . . "

Class of 1944

Freshman Class Officers

ROOM ONE

President ..... Charles Jacob
Vice President.....Ewing Hess
Sec.-Treas....Eugene Cunningham

ROOM FIVE

President ..... Anne Kukec
Vice President..... Wilma Smith
Sec.-Treas. ..... Emily Kallis

ROOM SIX

President ..... Richard Kloss
Vice President....Dorothy Zanolli
Sec.-Treas. ..... Helen Lawrence

Contrary to general practice, home room officers were elected in each Freshman room, instead of class officers.

Although the class as a whole has not performed any outstanding activity in the past school term, the different rooms have very successfully presented assembly programs and have also co-operated in the magazine sales campaign.

CLASS ROLL

Row One—Fernandez, Garner, Boyd, Manfredi, Popadines, Cott, Thomas.

Row Two—Battistoli, Podczerviensky, Stevenson, Beringo, Zites, Hannen, Adamson, Reardon, Kennedy.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Row One—Kapcar, Brenzovich, Mr. Davies, Castana, Distefanis.
Row Two—Gamble, Kallis, Kimtantas, Kurtz.
Row Three—Burkus, Moravitz, Kloss.

This organization is composed of representatives from every classroom in the school. Although in its third year of existence the council is still quite new.

This group, under the guidance of Mr. Davies, has learned to conduct its meetings according to parliamentary procedure. It has successfully undertaken the financial responsibility of the series of five professional assemblies held during the school term. To obtain enough money to cover the cost of purchasing Varsity letters for deserving athletes, a Faculty-Varsity basketball game was sponsored by this club.

Officers were: President, Sophie Kimtantas; Vice President, Vera Kapcar; Secretary-Treasurer, John Burkus; Sponsor, Mr. Davies.

Fluency, adaptability, and a good refutation are the qualities of a good debater. Also a necessity for this last season was ample knowledge concerning the NRA, the three departments of our government, unemployment, social security, and the like. Why? Because the debate topic was—Resolved: That the power of the Federal government should be increased.

A university debate in Pittsburgh, and a series of tournaments with neighboring schools rounded out a busy season for affirmative speakers Beck, Waugh, Paler, Simon, and negative speakers Kapcar, Fernandez, Morris, Bercosky, and Lewis. Miss Sokol was their coach.

Row One—Kapcar, Dobrunick, Miss Sokol, Bercosky, Beck.
Row Two—Morris, Paler, Bachman, Waugh, Lonich.

DEBATE TEAM

ALPHA TRI-HI-Y

Row One—Beck, Battistolli, Hawkins, Morgan, Ball, Miss Zwick, Drucheck, Kapcar, Battistoli, Thomas.
Row Two—Distefanis, Davero, Trimbath, Williams, Bane, Kovach, Cherup, Shulsky, Flesher, Davey, Miller, Leeper.
Row Three—Lawrence, McKnight, Stagon, Demchak, M. Burke, Shaw, Dobrunick, E. Burke, Pelkey, Pietrantonio, Virgin, Petrick.
Row Four—Rettucci, A. Zahara, Minicucci, Garner, Kimtantas, Hoffman, Wilson, Bachman, M. Zahara, Salko.

As in the past, the Alpha Tri-Hi-Y has again been one of the higher-ranking leaders of activities in our school. They have given generously to the Tuberculosis fund, the Red Cross, and the Inter-Racial fund, and they co-operated with the Hi-Y to make the magazine subscription campaign a success.

One of its most successful projects was the sponsoring of the annual Christmas party for the needy children of the grade school. There have been differences of opinion as to whether the "kids" had more fun, or the girls who entertained them.

Officers for the year were: President, Margaret Drucheck; Vice President, Vera Kapcar; Secretary, Jeanne Hawkins; Treasurer, Diane Morgan; Chaplain, Gladys Ball; Sponsor, Miss Zwick.

Not to be outdone by its sister organization, the Alpha Club, the Beta-Tri-Hi-Y has been very active all year. They, too, gave generously to the Tuberculosis Association and the Red Cross. They also sponsored clean-up campaigns, clean speech campaigns, "Go-to-Church Campaigns," and on the lighter side have held parties and athletic meets just for the sheer joy of being together. During the course of the year various members also entertained the club at their homes.

Presiding officers were: President, Lenora Paler; Vice President, Margaret Smith; Secretary, Melba Mazzer; Treasurer, Norma Bartko; Chaplain, Olivette Brown; Sponsor, Miss Haver.

Row One—Bartoletti, Smith, Bartko, Mazzer, Miss Haver, Paler, Brown, Vandegrift.
Row Two—Werner, Ferrari, Waugh, Rankin, Riley, Castana, Dixon, Bertanzetti.
Row Three—Bedsworth, Mori, Tedesco, Ross, Bonk, Bercosky, Natali.

HI-Y

Row One—J. Abbadini, J. Morgan, R. Natali, Cerqua, Mr. Harshman, Bachman, Dolcini, Cupp, Bartko.
Row Two—Molitoris, Stay, Baruzzi, Haladyna, Malinzak, D. Morgan, W. Natali, Gamble, Rankin, Kurtz.
Row Three—Nyswaner, R. Abbadini, Powers, Miller, Smith, Burkus, Watson, Carl, Basich.
Row Four—Lonich, Parrish, Johnson, Snyder, Murray, Pettigrew, Brandtonies.

This group undoubtedly enjoyed one of its best seasons, because, along with its social schedule of athletic and swimming meets, parties and dances, it also did much to honestly strengthen a lagging school spirit. It started the campaign to pay the final payments on the electrical scoreboard, and the willingness of this gesture served to knit the student body into a unified whole, where co-operation, friendliness, and companionship were the first and last words. Its splendid work has been a real boon to East Bethlehem High School.

Officers for the past season were: President, Sundae Cerqua; Vice President, Kenneth Bachman; Secretary, John Morgan; Treasurer, Ralph Natali; Sergeant-at-Arms, Harris Dolcini; Chaplain, Paul Cupp; Sponsor, Mr. Harshman.

The Camera Club, just in its second year, has brought out a surprising number of students genuinely interested in photography. It is evident that there is much enthusiasm among the members by the results of the snapshot contests held during the year. All entries were judged according to originality, scene, clearness, and lighting.

A season of enjoyable activity was rounded out with the purchase of a camera, the club's exclusive property, which the members hope will be a nucleus around which more equipment will be gathered.

Officers were: President, William Morgan; Vice President, Melba Mazzer; Secretary, Lenora Paler; Treasurer, Gloria Tedesco; Sponsor, Miss Perrone.

Row One—Reardon, Battistoli, Sharratt, Vandegrift, Paler, Mazzer, Miss Perrone, Morgan, Tedesco, Gamble, Lawrence, Sargent.
Row Two—Trimbath, Fernandez, Kallis, D. Ferrari, Evans, Barndollar, Natali, Waugh, Smith, Livingston, Oldland, Saxon, Adamson, Cummings.
Row Three—McClellan, Bartosh, Morris, Wapinski, Grable, M. Ferrari, Castana, Hubick, Davies, Fowkes, Brenzovich, Popadines, Welling.
Row Four—Morton, Gallagher, Righetti, Kukol, Zanolli, Riley, Eadie, Garner, Jacob, Bonham.

PRESS CLUB

Row One—Mr. Marconi, Thomas, McGrady, Morgan, Bachman, Ball, Nyswaner, Mr. Davies.
Row Two—Baruzzi, Flesher, Wilson, Drucheck, Zahara, Minicucci, Kovach, Bartko.
Row Three—Natali, Evans, Hawkins, Miller, Battistoli, Cupp.
Row Four—Kimtantas, Smith, Hubick, Stewart, Garner, Pettigrew.

The Press Club, still in its infancy, has progressed nicely in creating a more-highly-praised Hi-Spots. Journalistic competition has been just as keen among the members of the club as it has been among school papers throughout the State, and of course, they have tried hard to make each issue of the High-Spots bigger and better than the last. One thing is commonly conceded to this group, and that is that it is perhaps the greatest single force in making our school life completely enjoyable. Anxious waiting for the Hi-Spots each month is eloquent testimonial to this fact.

Officers were: President, Kenneth Bachman; Vice President, Martha Thomas; Secretary, Rena Battistoli; Treasurer, William Natali.

In our midst we have discovered several students who are truly dramatically inclined, as was evidenced by the plays produced by the Drama Club, the successes of which have been largely due to the work of Miss Adams, dramatic coach.

Highlights of the Drama Club's season were the first use of the new stage setting presented to the school by the school board, the fun of having a "Movie Star" party, and the witnessing of Helen Hayes in Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" at the Nixon Theatre.

Retiring officers are: President, Sundae Cerqua; Vice President, Kenneth Bachman; Secretary-Treasurer, Allan Parrish; Sponsor, Miss Adams.

Row One—Battistoli, Miss Adams, M. Burke, Cherup, Bachman, Cerqua, Parrish, Davey, Pelkey, Beck.
Row Two—Natali, A. Zahara, Drucheck, Kapcar, Garner, Wilson, M. Zahara, E. Burke, Flesher, Watson.

Row Two—Rankin, Shulsky, Kovach, Drucheck, Minicucci, Hubick, Flesher.

One generally imagines librarians as serious-minded, stodgy, bespectacled women. At our school, however, the librarians are a group of pleasant-looking, capable, young ladies, as the picture above proves.

The librarians have been responsible for a number of innovations, among which are: the books have been listed in a more convenient manner, an electrical clock has been installed, and a library stool and new books have been purchased.

At club meetings, after the business on hand had been disposed of, the remainder of the time was devoted to social activities.

Officers were: President, Vera Kapcar; Vice President, Sophia Kimtantas; Secretary, Martha Thomas; Treasurer, Pauline Yodens; Advisors, Miss Zwick, Miss Adams.

This club is undoubtedly the most colorful and instructive within the school, colorful because it appeals to air-minded youth and instructive because it gives them a chance to satisfy their burning quest for knowledge about aviation. Judging from the vast number of model planes they have built, the club is doing a thorough job of giving the students a vicarious satisfaction in aviation, and their annual trip to the Allegheny County Airport was enjoyed with the spirit and abandon that only a Junior Aviator can possess.

Retiring officers are: Commander, Albino Dalla Santa; Captain, Michael Stay; Sergeant-at-Arms, Alfred Scarcella; Sponsor, Mr. Greskovich.

Row One—Zangla, Marckesini, Scarcella, Mr. Greskovich, Dalla Santa, Jay, Haladyna, Basich.
Row Two—Fowkes, Cummings, Findl, Hess, Campise, Kloss, Regets, Giles, Charnoki.
Row Three—Welling, Sargent, Tinelli, Morgan, Stay, Piazza, Mazeppa, Sahady.

Row One—Murray, Richards, Molk, Pawlak, Kurtz, Bartko, Kubicar, O. Abbadini, Christy, Burkus, Brandtonies, Barndollar, Sargent.
Row Two—Clair, Katko, Evans, Malinzak, Allen, Dolcini, Mr. Edwards, Carl, Smith, Natali, Ball, Rankin, Retucci, Jenaway, Beck, Shulsky.
Row Three—Pietrantonio, Dobrunick, Mathews, Stagon, Kuzens, Korbini, Rebres, Vunjak, Lawrence, Gordon, Yodens, Davero, Koki, College, Hawkins, Nicklos, Bendis.
Row Four—Boger, Chelena, Landgraf, Novosel, Hubick, Salko, Shaw, Giovanelli, Righetti, D. Faieta, E. Faieta, Kowalczyk, Moravitz, E. Faieta, Grossi, Pelkey, Volcheck, Cherup, Bane, Virgin.

"Safety rules must be obeyed in all walks of life," proclaim the illustrious members of our own Safety Club, the largest organization at East Bethlehem. These students progressed nicely in spreading their tenets throughout the entire school via a Safety Campaign in which safety films were shown to the student body. Through a clear view of what safety means and how its rules should be applied, our student body was advanced another step in that slow, evolutionary process in which carelessness is replaced by watchfulness and mindfulness.

Officers were: President, Harris Dolcini; Vice President, Conrad Carl; Secretary, George Smith; Treasurer, Ralph Allen; Sponsor, Mr. Edwards.

"Onward for the Blue and Gold." Urged on by this rousing and beloved cheer, these boys have displayed a courageous and unfaltering fighting ability on the football field, basketball court, and baseball diamond—and for their achievements in preserving those things in school most dear to all of us, they are privileged to wear the heavy blue and gold varsity letters and sweaters.

The purpose of their organization is a triplicate one—sound bodies, sound minds, and sound sportsmanship. It is unanimously agreed that they have done much to further this triune ideal.

LOOKING BACK . . .

At a Checkered Football Season:

The 1940 football season brought outstanding players to the front all over the country, and our school was not without its quota. Davis, Lancaster, Packrall, Doman, Murray, Cupp, and Dolcini displayed good examples of heads-up football.

This year our team was small, but it was by no means a push-over. This year, too, more than ever, the morale of the team was bolstered by a fine showing of school spirit. . .

The boys went in each game with a desire only to win; and whether they won or not, they may be proud of the fact that they put up a good fight each time.

At a Shaky Basketball Season:

The boys who represented East Bethlehem in basketball have shown that they are not quitters. Defeat after defeat did not dampen their spirit one iota. Congratulations to them for having displayed a fine example of good sportsmanship.

A losing team does not mean that the team has poor players, and a winning team does not necessarily mean that the players are experts. Good players are judged by the way they play the game — and East Bethlehem's men have played. No better word can be spoken of them.

School Calendar

Sept. 3—First day of school—Castor oil, shoe polish, shellac, and paint flowed as freely as champagne at a New Year's Eve party. The Freshmen were the recipients — And How ! ! !

Sept. 13—Election of Class officers—Hail to the chiefs—This was a year of elections.

Sept. 14—Football—E. B. at Jefferson—Bulldogs were battle scarred and defeated, but not discouraged. There'll come a day, Bulldogs.

Sept. 20—Football—Fairchance at E. B.—Bulldogs almost masticated those little men.

Sept. 27—Football—Center Twp., away—Did you get lost hunting the field, too? A certain Sophomore girl has souvenirs of that game. Guess who? — Oh, yes, we won.

Oct. 4—Football—Ellsworth at E. B.—And the Bulldogs were left in the lurch.

Oct. 10 and 11—Teachers' Institute and a welcome vacation—Football on the eleventh—Bentleyville, here. This one had the members of our squad crying in their milk shakes.

Oct. 18—Football—W. Bethlehem, here. We'll wager West Beth's milk shakes were plenty salty.

Oct. 25—Football—E. B. at Centerville. Our spirits ran high—and that's the way our backfield ran. They didn't swamp us, anyhow.

Oct. 28—Special assembly—Eliot James—"Liquid Air." If you sat in the back of the auditorium we'll wager you didn't hear a thing.

Nov. 1—Football—N. Belle Vernon, here. The Bulldogs made a fine comeback and Home Room 8 put on a play—it was something about a dog.

Nov. 5—No school—Election Day.

Nov. 7—Bonfire and booster parade.

Nov. 8—Football—East High at East Pike and our Bulldogs came home defeated.—Exit, football.

Nov. 11—No school on Armistice Day.

Nov. 21-22—"Frank's giving." Boys applied makeup to the gym floor.

Dec. 6—Senior Class Play, "Foot-Loose." The new scenery got its first workout.—Scratch a Senior and you find an actor.

Dec. 20—Assembly, Home Room 5—Orchids to the Freshmen for a very fine Christmas play.—Basketball with Waynesburg at E. B.—Unlucky in football—unlucky in basketball.

Dec. 23 to Jan. 6—Christmas vacation.

Dec. 30—Basketball—E. B. at Waynesburg. The Bulldogs came home gloriously defeated.

Jan. 6—Edwin Roland in a special assembly on "Hobbies." After vacation, getting up for school was like getting up in the middle of the night.

Jan. 7—Basketball—E. B. at Carmichaels—and defeat. The Bulldogs must have gotten in a groove.

Jan. 10—Basketball—E. B. at Bentleyville—You guessed it, our boys bowed again.

Jan. 21—Ellsworth-Cokeburg came over for a bit of hoop-throwing. "They wuz jes' lucky."

Jan. 24—Assembly—Mr. Bower's mob took over. Ye Gods! ! ! What hams! Basketball at North Belle Vernon—'Twas a nice long bus ride, anyway.

Jan. 28—Basketball—East Pike at E. B. They beat us, daddy, and it wasn't eight to a bar.

Jan. 30-31—Mid-term exams. Give a student enough rope and he'll consult his neighbors. Mapletown, away.

Feb. 4—Basketball—Bentleyville, h'yar. No comment.

Feb. 7—Assembly—Home Room 6—Hats off to the Freshies—Basketball—Carmichaels, here.

Feb. 11—Basketball—Bulldogs trotted over to Centerville.

Feb. 12—Basketball. Alumni felt at home.

Feb. 14—Mapletown came over for a tête-a-tête.

Feb. 18—Ellsworth took the Bulldogs on and on.

Feb. 19—Centerville trotted over here.

Feb. 20—Special assembly—Dan Stiles on "New England." Morning assemblies serve their purpose—extra sleep.

Feb. 21—Basketball—N. Belle Vernon, here.

Feb. 25—East Beth. at East Pike.

Feb. 27—Assembly—Home Room B—Wonder if Mr. Greskovich wrote that production?

Feb. 28—Faculty Game—You should have seen those "Five Old Men" in action. Exit, basketball.

March 14—Assembly—Home Room 1—Nice going, Freshies! Lots of luck in the future, too!

March 25—Special assembly—George de Mott. We were wide awake this morning—watching for a slip that never came in.

April 1—No school—Labor Day.

April 4—Junior Class Play—We went to it and for it in a big way.

April 11-14—Easter vacation.

April 15—Special assembly—Lesselli Marionettes—Those Freshies down front were stricken with awe—ah! ah!

April 18—Assembly — Home Room 2 — Gigantic-Stupendous-Collossal. (Note: Compare with Home Room 10.)

May 2—Assembly—Home Room 7—Those Juniors make anything a success.

May 9—Junior-Senior Prom—This ended all feuding. The prom was just too-too!

May 16—Assembly—Home Room 3—That's Mr. Marconi's Home Room.

May 30—Memorial Day — No school

June 1—Baccalaureate — Nearing the end.

June 4—Eighth grade commencement. "To you we throw the torch . . ."

June 6—Senior Class Night—Seniors were caught with their hearts down. A lump in the throat is not worth two elsewhere.

June 9—H. S. Commencement—This is the final drawing of the curtain—but you'll see us at every school activity in the future.

In Memoriam

Words cannot express it, printer's ink cannot convey it — this deep sorrow in the heart of every student of East Bethlehem High School, the great void that cannot be filled.

" . . . . In loving memory of Dolores Ann Natali — born November 12, 1926, died February 26, 1941 . . . . " So run the ordinary words of condolence and regret. Our sorrow cannot become that trite or banal, because it is much too real and poignant. The memory of Dolores, her smile, her gracious manner, her friendliness, the twinkle in her eye, and her willingness to lend a hand have endeared her to all, and although her place in our ranks is empty, she will live on eternally within our hearts. Our sorrow is best expressed by the solemn avowal that we all have lost . . . . a friend.
